Dear Parents,

I know you will have all heard the announcement from the Prime Minister earlier in the week that schools will remain closed until at least 8th March. We do not know any further information at the moment, but will keep a close eye on any updates in order that we can prepare for this next phase. In the meantime, we will continue with our current remote education arrangements. The children continue to amaze us with how well they are engaging with learning online. We are also really pleased that families are reaching out to us if they need a little support or reassurance. Please do get in touch if we can help in anyway.

We recognise that lockdown is not easy as we struggle to balance the different demands of our lives. However, I heard on the radio this morning someone talking about the fact that everyday which passes is one less day to go until we reach the end of lockdown. It struck me that this was a positive way to approach the current landscape within the nation right now. Another positive is that it is good to see infection rates are continuing to reduce across the county and an increasing number of people are receiving their first vaccination.

I hope you all have a good weekend. I see from the weather forecasts that we might even be due some more snow!

Warmest wishes

Judith Bloomfield
